

Contents

PAGE

- 1 Key markings I
- 2 Key markings II
- 3 Key markings III
- 4 Marking the medial vertical incision
- 5 Marking the lateral vertical incision
- 6 Marking the inferior resection
- 7 Marking the new areolar position
- 8 Making the initial incision
- 9 Assembling the reduced breast
- 10 Closure I
- 11 The inferior pedicle markings used for mastopexy
- 12 Closure II

Key markings I

The breast meridian, or 'nipple' line, runs from the mid clavicular point down to the nipple. The breast meridian also intersects the infraclavicular line on the chest wall, and this point will become the site of the inverted T-scar in the lower midline of the new breast.

1