First NAoMe Quarterly Report published

The first NAoMe Quarterly Report was published on 10th April 2024 and includes:

- Two data completeness indicators showing performance over the last three years for people with 'de-novo' metastatic breast cancer diagnosed in English NHS trusts.
- Patient characteristics data giving an overview of the age, ethnic-group, route-to-diagnosis and co-morbidities for people with 'de-novo' metastatic breast cancer diagnosed in English NHS trusts.
- Patient characteristics data giving an overview of age-at-recurrence and ethnic group for people who have been identified as having recurrent breast cancer in English NHS trusts. (However, additional people with recurrent breast cancer are likely to exist).

How to improve your data for the NAoMe

How do I check the completeness of my cancer data submissions to National Disease Registration Service (NDRS)?

The key Cancer Outcomes Services Dataset (COSD) items used for the NAoMe are listed here. Your local Data Improvement Lead at NDRS will be able to help you find information about your COSD submissions. Regional contacts for NDRS are listed under FAQ #11 which you can access here.
